

For the attention of general public

It is being noticed that some administrators and members of some social media groups intend to spread rumours by hosting fake messages on news platforms and social media platforms like Whatsapp, Facebook, Twitter, etc. to spread confusion amongst general public regarding allocation of funds for promotion of research and development activities in Siddha system of medicine.

Taking into account the numerous benefits of Siddha, Central Council for Research in Siddha (CCRS) was established in September, 2010 with its headquarters in Chennai, so that the system would get the desired attention in research, drug standardization and integration with other systems of medicine. Since the establishment of CCRS as a separate Council, three new Research Units have been established in New Delhi, Bengaluru and Tirupati and commissioning of one Unit in Goa is in progress. Ministry of AYUSH lends its full support to CCRS to expand its activities in various parts of the country, so that more population would be able to get the benefit of Siddha system.

The public are advised not to pay attention to such rumours and also not to believe in unverified informations.
